CHILDEN'S PLEASURE TRIPS

Much Ws Done Last Year to Add to Comfet of Washington's Youth. Mor Contemplated This Season.

'A Thught for the 'Stay at Homes.' is the litle of the new and attractive circula just issued by the summer outings committee of the Associated Chari-Mue information, showing work and developments of the past two or three years and plans for the present summer ave been condensed into six small page of reading matter and pictures. Outigs are divided into four groups Evering car rides, a day in the park, rive trips and picnics, and two weeks at camp Good Will. A short story, illus traing the way in which a city drudge with opportunity or spirit, may, under proper influences and with "half a chince" become a wide-awake boy, is well set forth under the title "Gloomy Gis Becomes Sunny Jim." A statement of "things needed" at Camp Good Wild ocupies two columns and illustrates tle fact that this outings center i panned to take care of the youngsters in the most simple and wholesome manier, and train them in proper ways of living without introducing any ideas o expenditures which would be impossible in their own homes.

Work of Last Year.

Under "Facts Briefly Stated" it is shown that last summer 2,880 car tickets were distributed for afternoon and evening trolley rides into the country; coach mobile, and train trips to the country for those who could leave home for only one day; excursions for 800 picnicmakers to river resorts; 380 (two weeks), the equivalent of 760 (one week) vaca-tions, given to children and mothers at Camp Good Will. In the sumer of 1906 it is said the committee expects to distribute a larger number of car tickets, and carry out their other plans in proportion.

Personnel of Committee. In addition to the long list of important people who compose this committee, the sible for carrying out the many details of the work with which the committee deals: John Joy Edson, chairman; Charles J. LEFT A FARM TO EACH OF FIFTEEN CHILDREN

Michigan Head of Large Family Made All His Wealth by Farming.

VASSAR, Mich., June 13 .- One of the most conspicuous examples in Michigan of wealth made from farming has come to light with the filing of the will of George Winkler, who died at the age of eighty-two years, at his home near Richville. He bequeathed an eighty-acre farm to each of his fifteen children, besides dividing $50,000 in money and personal property equally among them. He made entire fortune in farming.

Winkler's homestead consists of nearly 200 acres of as fine grain growing land as can be found in Michigan. Wheat has been the principal crop.

has been the principal crop.

Winkler's large family were all good workers and they turned in the product of their labor to a common fund in the father's charge. As each one was married or became of age, he or she was given an eighty-acre farm. The last farm was bought and paid for on the day of the old man's death.

The title to all the land remained in his name, but provision for equal distribution was made in the will, save for the youngest child, whose farm was bought recently. However, the heirs have reached an amicable settlement by carrying out their father's settled policy of dividing his estate.

pearl buttons in the back. Miss Weisenborn had no maid, but she got eleven of the top buttons fastened and was doing a contortion feat to reach the more elusive ones, when she broke her left arm. Then she sat down and cried good and hard. She did not mind the pain of the broken arm quite as much as she did the disappointment of having to remain away from the rereption.

However, a doctor was called, who put her damaged arm in splints, while her mother put Anna to bed and put the peek-a-boo waist in its box.

Rid His Estate of Reptiles.

FOR DEAD SNAKES

NEW YORK, June 13 .- John D. Rocke Teller is looking for a modern St. Pat-rick. He has declared war on the snakes that infest his large estate at Pocantico hills, and for every one killed and brought to his superintendent, he pays 5 cents. The following notice was sent out a short time ago:

"I will pay 25 cents for all snakes cilled on my estate. I desire to rid my and of these reptiles and anyone may enter the war of extermination. John D

The war has begun and a regiment of extermination consists of every small boy in the neighborhood and many who ome from miles around to make th much prized quarters. Mr. Rockefeller is deathly afraid of snakes. He will never walk in the Buttermilk hill sec which is infested with copperheads and blacksnakes. If he has occasion to go there, he always travels in a car-dog killed on his estate. Some valuable dogs were killed last winter and he had some trouble with his neighbors. His order to exterminate the snakes, however, has been welcomed not alone by the small boys, but by all the people.

MEDICINE POISONS PROTECTING GERMS

Alleged Remedies Often Destroy Body's Lifeguards, the Phagocytes, According to Russian Savant.

LONDON, June 13.-Professor Elia Metchnikoff, the great Russian savant, who has been lecturing at King's College, deprecated the use of medicine and drugs, as they often poison themselves.

The elements in the body, which fight against infection, he said, such as the protectors. The rector declared base- phagocytes, are not insensible to poisball to be an honorable profession and told the players that to win games they must strive for success and be temperate in habits.

The sermon created a sensation in Trinity parish, many of whose members oppose Sunday baseball.

Sermon created a sensation in action upon them. Other substances regularly used in medicine cause the same results; even quinine, the prophylactic effect of which in malarial fevers is indisputable, is a poison for the white blood cells. Hence as a general rule nedicaments should be avoided as much as possible in favor of hygienic measures that might check the outbreak of infectious diseases

Professor Metchnikoff, at another lecture, said that the minute organisms known as oxyures and ascarides often manner fastened one of the rear hoofs in its mouth, the steel shoe being firmly clamped between the teeth of the animal. Heroic measures had to be resorted to in order to release the animal's foot, but before this could be accomplished several teeth were broken.

Miss Phoebe Cousins Speaks Plainly the Sick list. and to the Point on Temperance.

Every day seems to bring us nearer a sane sensible, and practical solution of the temperance question in the U. S. more than one noted speaker and thinker have of late shown a leaning to a practical rather than a theoretical effort to an in the cause of temperance. One of the most noted women of our day and age is Miss Phoebe Cousins, for a quarter of a century the leader in the worma's suffrage movement in the West. She recently said: "There never will be a law to compel prohibition and the sensible thing for the Women's Christian Ten perance Union to do is to aid in the substitution of mild, nourishing drinks like beer which seldom produces drunkenness." This brod assertion may bring storm of criticism from the fanatica the end the 'lving truth of her words will prevall. She is borne out in her statement by statistics. It has been clearly shown that with the increased use of malt beverages in this country there has been a corresponding decrease in intemperance.

there has been a corresponding decrease in intemperance.
Recently a prominent army officer in the West operated canteens at three different army posts at which only beer was sold—no alcoholic liquors whatever were allowed. He made the canteens so acceptable to the soldlers, who found beer satisfying their demands, that he actually ran all the low dives of the surrounding neighborhood out of business. Yet it was through the efforts of the W. C. T. U. that the army canteens were driven out. Let us hope the many noble women comprising the W. C. T. U. will be broad-minded enough to recognize their mistake and join Miss Cousins and others who are sincerely striving to stem the tide of intemperance by the substitution of mild, harmless beer for strong drink. In this connection it might be well to mention that chemical analysis shows Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer, which is perhaps the best known of all bottled beers, to contain only a fraction over three per cent alcohol—as one eminent physician puts it, "just enouse for a good tonic effect to the stomach, while in food value it is far superior on account of the Pabst exclusive eight-day process of making mait."
